Govt. offers to make 8 changes to farm laws

As farmers seek repeal, talks end inconclusively

PRISCILLA JEBARAJ
NEW DELHI

After over seven hours of discussion, the fourth round of talks between the Centre and farmer leaders ended inconclusively on Thursday. Although the Centre offered to consider eight amendments to the contentious farm reform laws and offered assurances that the minimum support prices (MSP) for farm produce would continue, farmer leaders continued to stand firm on their demand that all three laws be completely repealed.

The dialogue is scheduled to resume on Saturday, but the continuing deadlock meant that farmers would not even eat the lunch and tea provided by the government at Vigyan Bhavan, preferring to bring in their own food from a gurdwara.

Tens of thousands of farmers, mostly from Punjab, Haryana and Uttar Pradesh, have completely or partially sealed multiple entry points on Delhi's borders with Haryana and U.P. for the eighth straight day, camping out along the highways leading to the city with long lines of tractors. Their demands are to scrap the three laws which

India's largest private sector bank said that over the past two years it had taken several measures to fortify its IT systems and would continue to 'work swiftly to close out the balance and would continue to engage with the banking regulator in this regard'.
