4 MAY	❖ Coal Miners Day
	❖ International Firefighter's Day
	❖ World Asthma Day (First Tuesday of	“Uncovering Asthma Misconceptions”

India:

In India coal mining began in 1774 when John Sumner and Suetonius Grant Healthy of the East India Company commenced commercial exploitation in the Raniganj Coalfield along the Western bank of Damodar River. Further, the introduction of steam locomotives in 1853 boosted demand and production of coal increases. In India, coal-rich regions are Orissa, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Chhattisgarh and some central and southern parts of the country.

Mainly miners spend their days tunneling, digging and extracting coal from the mines. It is known that more than half of India's commercial energy needs are fulfilled by coal. It is the main fuel for generating power, making steel and cement.

4 May - International Firefighter's Day

International Firefighter's Day is observed every year on 4 May. It was instituted on 4 January, 1999 after a proposal via emailed out across the world due to the deaths of five firefighter's in a bushfire in Australia. Therefore, this day is observed to recognise and honour the sacrifices that firefighter's make to ensure that their communities and environment are as safe as possible.

World Asthma Day: History

The first World Asthma Day was celebrated in 1998 in more than 35 countries along with the first World Asthma Meeting held in Barcelona, Spain.

Asthma is a condition of chronic disease which hinders the respiratory system, causing difficulty in breathing. This can make breathing difficult, can trigger frequent coughs and wheeze.
