CLOZE TEST

Since 2016, the deaths of 13 people in the Pandharkawda divisional forest of Maharashtra have been --due--16 to tigers and at least five of them to Avni. India's wildlife laws permit a tiger which is believed to have ----17 on humans to be killed. The State's chief wildlife warden claimed he had ----18.

The decision to shoot T1 (known as Avni) was taken in January but --ull and void--19 by the Bombay High Court after appeals by activists. Three more deaths later, the Supreme Court, in September, cleared the way for the forest department to have the tiger ----20.

On November 2, it emerged that forest officials along with Asghar Ali, the son of hunter Nawab Shafat Ali, claimed to have chanced upon the tiger which, they said, charged at them.

The --village--21 party failed to ----22 Avni, as the rules required, and shot at it fatally. Union Minister for Women and Child Development Maneka Gandhi ----23 the killing saying it a "murder", and several activists and some veterinarians have alleged that no ----24 was made to tranquilise the animal. The National Tiger Conservation Authority has ----25 an independent team of wildlife experts to investigate the killing.
