

1. With no governmental control and least concern for environment, many private waste-processing industries are possessing a threat to public safety in India.
2. Despite maternal mortality rates showing decline in India, thousands of women are dying every year due to lack access to basic healthcare facilities.
3. Even after so many years of independence, women in India continues to suffer socially and economically at different levels and different forms.
4. There cannot be any situation when somebody makes money in any country and do not pay tax either in India or elsewhere.
5. Despite of curfew in some areas, minor communal incidents were reported from different areas of the wall town.
6. The country has adequate laws but problem arises when they are not implementation in latter and spirit.
7. As far as issue of land encroachment in villages are concerned, people will have make a start from their villages educating the villagers about this issue.
8. The ability of a woman to do well does not depend on if it is a man's world or not, because everyone of us have certain fixed opportunities.
9. Democratic countries are richer and have a good record of educating their citizens about business than many Socialist countries.
10. Development of drought resistance could be benefitted many farmers because of there is a possibility of adverse impact of climate on agriculture.
11. Immediately after opening the booklet one has verify that it's pages are properly and clearly printed with headlines.
12. Blood diamonds are stones that are produced in areas control by rebel forces, where they sell these rough diamonds, and the money is used to purchase arms and funding their military actions.